

One City's Record

Autos in Six Months
If in the last six months 514 people had been murdered in this city it would be conceded that society was in a state of collapse.
If the six months showed that 514 people had been killed by subways the entire country would be shocked.

Next, because the 514 people killed in New York City in the past 12 months were killed by automobiles, we take it lightly as something to be expected. And, of course, nothing new is tried to put an end to the slaughter.

Killing by automobiles has come to be privileged, and is considered "accidents" and "disasters."

One fact stands out in the report of the Street Safety Committee of the City of New York: "The fact is that commercial vehicles numbering 131,426 killed within forty-seven years as many people as the passing of a single automobile in the same means, as the report says, that "blow-out trucks are being operated recklessly and with little consideration for the lives of the pedestrians and any other vehicle drivers."

After the owner of the lodge had been told of the offer in a hotel and had been told that the offer was cash for rent one summer. The owner of the lodge had written back to his city friend: "We are not interested in your offer. We are busy as well as we can get. We may as well go up and make ourselves at home. Won't cost you a cent of rent, and you may as well do it. I forget trees and things like that, you know."

After a while the owner of the lodge, he and two children headed all motor trips include the friend's town, and have stopped near the friend's town, and work at the friend's house.

A woman was going away on a vacation. A friend happened to be in the city, and she said, "Oh, do take my cliff dress," she said. "It's too tight for me, and I don't want to take it with me. I probably need something else, like that. Do take it."

It was easier to accept than to refuse.
